Definition of Resignation

A steering committee officer who is no longer able to perform the duties and responsibilities of the office should submit a resignation in writing to the Chairperson or Information Chairperson as soon as their inability to serve is known.

A steering committee officer may be considered resigned by default if they fail to perform the duties and responsibilities of the office for a period of one month and have not replied to inquiries from the Chairperson or Information Chairperson.

Article X. Financial Guidelines

The Treasurer shall manage the funds contributed by the groups to ensure that the basic services listed in Article II are provided without interruption by maintaining a prudent reserve equal to six months operating expenses. Operating expenses do not include inventory costs, and are to be calculated based on the prior year's expenses, with consideration given to known increases in expenses (rent, phone, internet, etc.) in the coming year. The prudent reserve is to be held in a separate savings account and the amount to be held in prudent reserve can be altered by a two-thirds majority vote of the intergroup representatives.

The Treasurer and Fiduciary Committee shall monitor the prudent reserve and operating accounts to ensure funds do not accumulate in excess of what is necessary to ensure uninterrupted operation of the intergroup in order to fulfill its purpose as prescribed in Article II. When a surplus is identified, it will be reported to the Steering Committee, which may, without prior approval from the group representatives, distribute excess funds at its discretion, so long as that discretion is exercised consistently with the purposes of A.A., provided said distributions do not exceed $1,000 in any three-month period. Proposed distributions in excess of $1,000 will be presented to group representatives for approval at the next business meeting. The group representatives will vote on whether the surplus funds should be disbursed to A.A. World Services (or any other appropriate purpose in order to carry the A.A. message). It is suggested that, in addition to safeguarding the prudent reserve, that there always be enough funds to fully stock all inventory and pay for all foreseeable future expenses.

Should funds available for operating expenses fall below the approved prudent reserve level, the Treasurer shall notify the intergroup representatives of the need for contributions.

A Fiduciary Committee consisting of the Information Chairperson, the Secretary and the Technology Chairperson will perform oversight of the Greater Columbia Intergroup Treasurer's office. The Information Chairperson will serve as Chair of the Fiduciary Committee. Duties will include verifying the accuracy of the financial accounting of receipts, deposits and expenditures, and reporting the results to the steering committee and intergroup representatives of the Greater Columbia Intergroup. Reviews will be conducted at least monthly, or at more frequent intervals when appropriate. The committee will also monitor financial activity to ensure all financial guidelines specified in the Structure and Procedures of the Greater Columbia Intergroup of Alcoholics Anonymous are adhered to.

Article XI Guides

Service Manual*; Twelve Concepts for World Service; A.A. Guidelines from the General Service Office of Alcoholics Anonymous, notably, those pertaining to A.A. Central or Intergroup Offices, or Clubs; and, Relationship Between A.A. and Al-Anon.

Article XII. Amendments

The Structure and Procedures of the Greater Columbia Intergroup of Alcoholics Anonymous may be amended at any time by a two-thirds vote of the representatives present at any regular meeting, provided a quorum has been met and a copy of the proposed amendment has been submitted to each representative and/or alternate at least thirty days prior to the meeting at which action is to be taken on the amendment.

Article XIII. Abolishment and Discontinuation

In the event of the abolishment and discontinuation of the Greater Columbia Intergroup of Alcoholics Anonymous and its intergroup office, all money and General Service Conference-approved literature is to be sent to the General Service Office of Alcoholics Anonymous in New York; other service items, materials, etc., are to be disposed of as quickly and efficiently as possible.

Everyone

The Intergroup office may have to close early on the day before a holiday if the building management closes the building since most of our volunteers do not have building keys.

Office Volunteers

If you are working a shift the day before a holiday or on a Friday before a Monday holiday, please check with the building management upstairs to see if the building is closing early that day and plan to leave by the time it does.

Also, please either call to make sure the person to whom you are forwarding diverter service can take the phone early or make other arrangements to make sure the phone is answered until the scheduled overnight volunteers can take it. If you or someone else takes the phone until 5 p.m., be sure you or the other individual have the phone number to forward diverter service to the scheduled person and the Intergroup Rep for that group.

Intergroup Representatives

Please make sure that your group knows about holiday closings and potential early closings and be prepared to handle them.

If you have a small home group base, you can use the Confidential List to call people from other groups to see if they can help cover your group’s week. That is why we have the Diverter service column.
